40+ WINERIES

Less than an hour east of Portland, the Columbia Gorge features world-class wines, rugged scenic beauty, low-traffic wine touring and relaxed tasting rooms. With the amazing diversity of grape varieties that are cultivated here, this is a "world of wine in 40 miles" that awaits your discovery.

The Columbia River Gorge spans a remarkable range of growing conditions. It is a visually stunning place, full of outdoor adventures, amid wildlife and profuse wildflowers. The land, the people and the lifestyle define winemaking here. Our winemakers are iconoclasts and trailblazers, making extraordinary artisan wines. With access to more than 50 different premium grape varieties grown across this 40 mile stretch, our winemakers have a unique opportunity to create distinction and reveal place as they hone their craft.

Nestled between the majestic peaks of Mt. Hood and Mt. Adams, our wine region is defined by the Columbia River as it cuts through the Cascade Range. This dramatic transition in landscape and climate is enhanced by the cool moisture flowing eastward from the ocean, bringing 45 inches of rain per year to the western foothills of the Cascades and then dropping to as little as 10 inches in the dry, eastern desert. It's an amazing combination of climate, soil and geology, which makes for incredible expressions in the bottle.

Photos Blaine+Bethany & Wy'East Vineyards

Though most wine regions don't cross state lines, the Columbia Gorge wine region is rare in that it's comprised of a tight-knit group of winemakers and growers on both shores of the river, in Oregon and Washington, bound by their passion for the craft and commitment to the land.

Find your own wine adventure by exploring our tasting rooms in the many hamlets and small towns that comprise the region. Delight in the downtowns or wander the rich farms and orchards surrounding Hood River and The Dalles. Enjoy the winding & scenic roads of Underwood, White Salmon and Lyle, or explore the sunny and picturesque desert land stretching to the east. We await your discovery.

Our tasting rooms are friendly and inviting, and the views in every direction are breathtaking. Find out why so many are calling the Columbia Gorge wine country the most exciting wine region in the Northwest!

WINERIES

Welcome to Gorge Wine Country.

To truly taste the essence of the area, use this guide as your traveling companion. Try a high elevation Pinot Noir, a sunny Syrah, then cleanse your palate with a cool climate Riesling. Gorge wine is truly an experience of place.

Weekends only in January

From the grapes we respectfully tend on an array of small, exclusive WA & OR vineyard parcels, our family bottles wines for the table: vivid, nuanced, and unadorned. We invite you to explore with us the sites, grape varieties, and wine traits that typify the Gorge wine region. Our Lyle tasting room features a dramatic riverside deck, "nibble plates" (in season) and wine gifts.

Open February to December Friday-Sunday 12-6pm

AniChe Cellars is a small family run winery focusing on European style wine blends. Crafted using local grapes, our all women wine making team uses minimal processing, making blends with an homage to the traditional region in which the grapes originated. Working closely with the artistic community in the Columbia Gorge, we have a tasting room and art gallery in the historic Butler Bank building in downtown Hood River. Our farm and winery tasting room boasts beautiful views of the Columbia River Gorge. All tastings come with a complimentary food pairing to showcase our food friendly wines.

Dedicated to the belief that wine is made in the vineyard, our estate grapes produce fine Pinot Noir and Chardonnay. These wines reflect their origins in a classical manner. We also offer wines from selected vineyards from CA, OR and WA which are produced under the Brehm Vineyards label. We sell grapes to premium winemakers throughout North America. Our tasting room is a comfortable and welcoming place with vistas of windsurfers and Mt. Hood. The Columbia River is at our doorstep, just 1.8 miles west of the Hood River Bridge in Underwood, Washington.

VINEYARDS

The CGWA vineyard members listed here are among more than 90 vineyards that have been established in the Columbia Gorge.

Unless noted, vineyards are not open to the public.

Acadia Vineyards

Underwood, WA
Tammy Miller
503-705-9840
info@ceruleanwine.com

Planted: Tempranillo, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Pinot Gris, Gruner Veltliner, Riesling, Gewurztraminer, Pinot Blanc, and 5 varieties of pears
Organic vineyards 1000 ft above the Columbia River. 72 acres of award-winning wine grapes & 5 varieties of pears. Dry farmed, south sloping. No guests without prior arrangements. For tours, picnics, or grapes for sale, email us.

Broken Boulder Vineyards

Hood River, OR
Don Loop,
Vineyard Manager
541-993-5060
brokenbouldervineyards@gmail.com

Planted: 15 acres Pinot Noir, 2.5 acres Pinot Gris, 2.5 acres Chardonnay Broken Boulder Vineyard is the estate vineyard for Stave & Stone Winery. We utilize these varieties in our Stave & Stone wines, as well as offer grapes to wineries and winemakers. Broken Boulder Vineyard gets its name from the enormous basalt boulders that graced our fields, courtesy of Mt. Hood thousands of years ago.

Cathedral Ridge Vineyard

Hood River, OR
541-386-2882
cathedralrdigewinery.com
crr@cathedralrdigewinery.com

Planted: Riesling, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay and Pinot Gris
We are blessed with our lovely House Vineyards here at Cathedral Ridge Winery with double mountain views of Mt. Hood and Mt. Adams and volcanic and silt loam soils. The Riesling was planted by Don Flerchinger in 1982. Sustainably grown.

Celilo Vineyard

Underwood, WA

The first plantings of Celilo Vineyard were developed in 1972 on the extinct volcano of Underwood Mountain. It is perched on a southwest facing site on volcanic loam and is one of the oldest vineyards in Washington state. Current plantings include Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Gewürztraminer and Pinot Gris.

Crooked Acres Vineyard

Underwood, WA
Rob Crooke
info@crookedacresvineyard.com
crookedacresvineyard.com

Planted: Pinot Gris; Pinot Noir (Clone #13); Chardonnay (Dijon clone #76)

The majestic, south facing site slopes towards Mt. Hood, the volcanic soil from Mount Adams and the temperate breezes from the Columbia River Gorge make this a special place for growing wine grapes. The deep winter rains from the Cascade Mountain range fortify the volcanic soil with moisture for bud break and berry set while the hot dry summers allow for berries with rich and complex flavors from the deep volcanic soil.

Davidson Hill Vineyards

Hood River, OR
davidsonhillvineyards.com

Planted: Malbec, Riesling

Garnier Vineyards

Mosier, OR
Todd Kingston,
Sales & Events Manager
541-478-2200
garniervineyards.com
todd@garniervineyards.com

Vineyards at the historic Mayerdale property were planted in 2002 adjoining our 232 acre orchard; overlooking the Columbia River, at the west end of the estate near Mosier, Oregon. The soils are sandy with a light clay content providing an eclectic mix of nutrients perfect for growing red and white wines as well as other fruit.

Hiyu Wine Farm

Hood River, OR
Nate Ready
541-436-4680
www.hiyuwinefarm.com
nate@hiyuwinefarm.com

We believe in connecting people to the land. Guided by nature and inspired by ideas from biodynamic farming and permaculture we care for 30 acres of hillside in the Hood River Valley. We tend vines, raise animals, garden, cook and make wine to reveal an experience of place. Our wines and products from the farm are available from time to time as part of the tasting experience at Smockshop Band. We host wine dinners at the farm every weekend. Visit our website for more details.

lamonti-vineyards

Planted: Pinot Gris, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Gewürztraminer

Located on Underwood Mountain, our rich volcanic soil, cool evenings, warming Gorge sun, and a caring viticulturist, create special, complex flavors.

Millennium Vineyards

Hood River, OR
541-386-8333
mthoodwinery.com

Planted: Pinot Gris, Pinot Noir
Located at the production facility for Mt. Hood Winery; the soil, air, climate, and farming techniques all work in unison to produce fine Hood River wines known for their distinctive taste.

Oak Ridge Vineyard

Husum, WA
Marlene and Thomas
Woodward, 509-493-1862
mwoodward@gorge.net
Planted: Gewürztraminer, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay

Our 15 acre, certified organic vineyard is set high on the eastern slopes of the White Salmon Valley at 1400'. Facing south towards Mt. Hood, the vineyard is bathed in just enough sun to bring out the spicy, concentrated flavors of classic cool weather varieties. The oldest planting of Gewürztraminer dates to 1984. Pinot Noir and Chardonnay were planted in 2007-2016. In the Columbia River Gorge, Analemma, Viento, and COR Cellars all produce wine made from our grapes. Fruit from Oak Ridge Vineyard is also featured in wine made by Brooks, Viola, Fausse Piste, Monteburno, Savage Grace & Dowsett Family wineries.

Pearblossom Vineyards,

Underwood, WA, Laszlo & Julie Regos, 310-422-6600, laszloregos@gmail.com or
julieregos@gmail.com
Planted: Pinot Noir, Gewürztraminer, Grüner Veltliner, Riesling

Our vineyard, located high above the beautiful Columbia River is at the far western end of the Columbia Gorge AVA. Our Gruner Veltliner, Pinot Noir, Riesling and Gewurztraminer varieties on approximately 18 south facing acres, located at 1250' elevation, are dry farmed. The hot summer days and cool nights ripen the grapes while preserving the acidity which is characteristic of Underwood Mtn.

The Pines Vineyard

The Dalles, OR
Lonnie Wright, 541-993-8301
thepinesvineyard.com;
thepinesvineyard@yahoo.com

Planted: Zinfandel, Merlot, Syrah

Planted in the 1890s and revived in 1982, our vineyard is one of the oldest in the NW. We believe in quality fruit, thinning our crop and hand-picking to ensure that each grape boasts intense flavor.

Van Horn Vineyard

Hood River, OR
541-386-8333
mthoodwinery.com

Planted: Pinot Gris, Pinot Noir, Chardonnay, Gewürztraminer, Riesling

20 acres of estate vineyards outside of the Mt. Hood Winery's tasting room at our century-old farm in the beautiful Hood River Valley.

Volcano Ridge Vineyard

The Dalles, OR
Alan Busacca
509-592-0756
volcanoridgevineyard.com
alan@vinitas.net

Planted: Zinfandel, Merlot, Chardonnay, Pinot Noir
Volcano Ridge Vineyard at 1200' is planted in soils eked out of ancient volcanic mudflows on steep canyon lands. It is certified sustainable by LIVE & Salmon Safe.

White Salmon Vineyard

Underwood, WA
Brehm Family
509-493-4640
whitesalmonvineyard.com
grapes@wsvwine.com

Planted: Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, Riesling, Sauvignon Blanc, Maria Gomes, Syrah, Malbec and Blaufränkisch

Less than a mile North of the Columbia River on the Southeast slope of Underwood Mountain, in deep volcanic soil littered with rocks, these hand-tended vines reflect our respect for the land and the belief that wine is made in the vineyard.
